

Golf Girls End Season With Big Show

The home of Mrs. Jay Tuggle was the scene of a gay party recently, when members of the Ladies' Golf Club wound up the season. Chastly golf balls, Diamond Lil, Klondike Kate, Confucious, Cleopatra and many other female luminaries from earlier days, walked again. Mrs. K. Shannon, as Anne Boleyn, won the prize for the best costume.

Under the guidance of Mrs. J. Shannon, Mrs. R. Bankier and Mrs. T. O'Lea, some very lively games were played. Mrs. S. Devine, with an assist from Mrs. F. Kaufman, gave a reading which was of great interest to some of the ladies. Mrs. J. Currie, president, and Mrs. I. Nichol, then presented the prizes which had been won during the season. Mrs. Currie, who has won the club championship for three years running, was presented with a miniature cup, which becomes a permanent possession. Mrs. J. Shannon won the bronze division.

Mrs. W. McFarquhar gave a brief resume of the year's activities, adding that only one ladies' day was rained out.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the various committees which have helped make the past season so successful. To conclude the enjoyable and sometimes hilarious evening, lunch was served by Cleopatra and her maids in waiting.

Ed. Note: Pictures were taken of this gala event which could amount to blackmail material; if Confucious missed them all there will be some new words written into the sayings of the Old Master.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

(From Our Own Correspondent)

A social evening was held at Mountain View hall last Thursday evening, with Mrs. Owens' dancing class, Ken Biles and his interesting talk on his United Nations tour, and a couple of films. The highlight of the evening came when one of the little dancers drew the tickets for chest and contents. Mrs. Kenneth Tighe won the grand prize and Mrs. Ken Bereth won the comforter. The W. Ken sponsored the show and served lunch, would like to thank everyone who took part in any way to make the evening a success.

The regular monthly films at the Mountain View hall will start this Friday, Nov. 2, at 8:30 p.m. Pot luck lunch.

Hail Suppression Plan To Nod Its Head Again

The Mountain View Hail Suppression Association met on Wednesday, October 21 to make plans for a proposed plebiscite to be held this fall for hail suppression in 1957.

The following boundaries for the largest area have been decided on, as follows:

South: A line running east and west along the south side of Sec. 13, Township 29.

North: North boundary of Twp. 32 east to the Kneeshill boundary line.

West: The western boundary will be a line running north and south, nine miles west of Didsbury, providing the cost is not too high going this far west.

The association have asked the W.R.D.C. Modification Corporation for a price for this area and will meet the Municipal Council of Mountain View on November 5 to make plans to hold a plebiscite on or about December 15 of this year.

Any group of farmers who are not within the target area, either north or south, and feel their area would carry the vote, may make application to the association, before Nov. 3rd, to be included in the area covered by hail suppression.

WESTERDALE NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Full operations came to an abrupt halt on Friday last when heavy snow began falling in the early hours of Friday morning and continued all through the day. The countryside is blanketed with approximately eight inches of snow at the time of writing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones went to Calgary last Wednesday where Art underwent X-ray treatments. The diagnosis was that he is suffering from stomach ulcers, not gall stones.

Mr. Stan Hunt, Mrs. Martin and Elizabeth Martin, brought Mr. and Mrs. Jones back from Calgary on Thursday.

Mrs. L. Jones accompanied Mr. Hunt and party to Calgary, to spend a few days under the bright lights. Mr. Jim Jackson commenced working on an oil rig in the west country on Friday.

Mr. Lyle Bolton, who is driving a truck in the Cochrane district, was away for a few days last week.

Mr. Bill Wigley, who is now at Swallow, spent an over-night visit at the F. J. Jackson home last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ecklund of Pincher Creek visited at the Bert Smith and Herbert Goetjen homes last week. Mr. Ecklund is the former Eunice Sanderson.

Mrs. Sid Willow spent a few days in Calgary last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Folkmann and Jacqueline and Miss Ellen Hunt of Calgary were weekend visitors at the Otto Folkmann home.

The unusual heavy fall of snow last weekend saw stockmen hauling feed or moving cattle to the feed. We hope this part a prelude to what will be going on until next May.

Lions Community Sale, Nov. 10th

Didsbury Lions Club will hold a big Community Auction Sale in the Memorial Arena on Saturday, Nov. 10, at which time clothing, furniture, stores, heaters and dozens of other articles will go under the hammer.

Anyone with articles to sell should contact either Ed Ford or Ray Shantz, as soon as possible. Owner will receive full selling price. . . . less selling commission.

Donations will be gratefully received by the Lions Club. They need the green stuff, in large amounts, to cover the cost of the rest room which is scheduled to be erected in the early months of next year.

A further list of donations is in the making towards this project and one kind lady from Calgary, who is very interested in the Lions Club, has already forwarded a plastic ornament for the building that has yet to come. We hope to hear from more people like this but the plastic affairs don't seem to be too durable. The Lions would appreciate something a little more sturdy.

Did You Know!

Rumors that are circulating, most of which come up with the point that there is not enough natural gas flowing through the mains to supply local consumers, are totally and entirely false.

At present there have been 30 meters installed here and all are quite happy with the masked magic they record — no shortage of the heater-beater. Don't let anyone tell you different until you're sure.

ZELLA NEWS NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mrs. A. Reist has been confined to bed with an injured knee for the past two weeks and will be convalescing for some time yet.

Mrs. Ben Cornforth and daughter Dobby of Calgary, were visitors at the E. Waldroff home for a few days last week.

In spite of the nine inches of the fairly white stuff the weather man decided to dump on us last Friday, Mr. Bell motored up from Calgary to show films Friday evening. About 45 film fans were present and "The Musical Ride" by the R.C.M.P. was of special interest.

Because of the nasty weather on Friday the tour planned for the intermediate class of Hartman to points of interest in Calgary had to be cancelled. However, the senior class did enjoy a full day of touring the city the day before.

The W.I. had a busy and successful day Thursday, serving lunch at the Worthington and Lloyd Bangerman kindly gave the ladies the use of the house on his truck and they were able to carry on business as usual.

The Bible Study and Social Evening will commence this Friday, Nov. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Community Centre.

HORSE SENSE

The true value of horse sense is shown by the fact that the horse was afraid of the automobile during the period when pedestrians laughed at it.

Legion To Hold Turkey Shoot

Didsbury Branch of the Canadian Legion will hold the first turkey shoot of the new season next Wednesday, November 7, starting at 2 p.m.

They invite nimrods to attend a little of the best at the Gun Club Site, situated on the south road leading to the highway.

Only grade "A" birds, fully dressed birds (as the man said, it should read undressed), will be handy for the winners. They'll all be ready for the pot, yet mean the birds, not the contestants.

If you have the time, the sun, the shells, and a few pieces of change, you should be there. If you haven't any of the above come along anyway, it's fairly certain you'll find what you may be short of.

New Studio Opens Saturday

We visited the new studio to be opened to the public on Saturday by Wayne Photos and to say the least we were very impressed. It is located on Leisner St., three blocks north and one and a half blocks west of the drug store corner and is easily identified by the neon sign on the front gable of the studio.

The building is finished in wide siding, painted in two-tone platinum gray and suburban coral.

The studio entrance, to the right of the residence kitchen door, leads into the waiting and reception room. The large plate glass window and the color scheme of turquoise and coral gray, will set off the display of mounted photographs when the display racks are completed.

The building is heated by a wall furnace, which distributes heat evenly to both the waiting room and the camera room.

A door leads into the camera room where the visitor notices first that there are no windows and no natural light whatsoever. This permits controlled lighting, so important for critical photographic effects.

The back of the camera room is smoothly covered into the side walls and the gray linoleum flooring, the plain color walls and ceiling with even disguised in seconds makes for ease in posing groups of all sizes.

Space does not permit a full description of the equipment, but four cameras, large light stands, drapes, electronic flash equipment and reflectors, are some of the items that are to be included in this fully modern studio.

The dark-room is still in the base-

Foraging Deer and Friend

A cat sniffs at a deer foraging for food on the lawn of a house near Montauk, N.Y., apparently aware that it is against the law to kill deer anywhere on Long Island. Home owners in the area are complaining that ever increasing deer herds are chewing up shrubs and flowers in broad daylight and generally becoming a nuisance.

Poppy Sale

Saturday, Nov. 10

This year the Boy Scouts will be selling poppies on Saturday Nov. 10. Members of the Canadian Legion have already canvassed places of business to take orders for poppies.

It is hoped this year that a little more interest and thought will be given to Remembrance Day. Keep it in mind if you haven't already got it there — were it not for those who fell where would we be?

It might also be mentioned here that Monday, Nov. 12 has been declared as a statutory holiday and most offices and places of business will be closed to honor those who died that we may live.

ment of the residence and it contains well over a thousand dollars worth of equipment and supplies.

Chitter-Chatter

By Our High School Scribbler

Just in case some of you were wondering what the pitch was last Friday . . . those weren't Martin creatures roaming the streets of our fair town. No they were only Didsbury High School initiates, dressed in everything from bathing caps to look woolies.

Initiation as most of you know, is an annual event at Didsbury High. This year, as usual, the grade tens, and all elevens and twelves who hadn't previously been initiated, spent the day dressed in outlandish costumes as slaves to the seniors.

In the evening a party was held, where pie-eating contests and the like, were in full swing. After the initiates had been put through their paces they were declared "official" members of Didsbury High School.

They'll get their revenge next year, there'll be another initiation and they'll be holding the whip.

WESTCOTT WOMEN'S GROUP TO SPONSOR CHICKEN SUPPER

Westcott W.A. met on Wednesday, October 17 at the home of Mrs. R. Shantz, with 10 members present. Roll call was a favorite Thanksgiving hymn. Devotion was taken by Mrs. M. Campbell.

Arrangements were made for the chicken and ham supper to be held on Nov. 2.

The topic of stewardship was given by Mrs. J. Robertson, who also led a lively discussion concerning "The Home As the Centre of Christian Stewardship." Members were reminded that the Westcott W.A. will celebrate its 25th anniversary next September.

HALLOWEEN IS OVER . . . but we're still here peekin' around . . .

Look elsewhere in our family sheet and you'll read about a lotta interesting things that are gonna happen here and there, or may be happening right now. We've noticed the Lions plan to hold an auction sale, the Legion branch are holding a turkey shoot, and one of the ones all should check the Poppy Sale on Saturday, Nov. 10. We can't cover 'em all but if you're looking for coming events, my partner snuck some in there on the back page with some more. You won't be disappointed if you attend any or all of them.

Above is shown a caricature of just what is happening in Hungary today. We are in sympathy with the resurgents. We hope they make it stick; we doubt if they can. In other places of the world terror still holds

LIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord." Ps. 122, 1. Gladness ought to fill our hearts each and every time we have an opportunity to come to the house of the Lord? Some may ask: "Why?"

George Bernard Shaw said: "If all churches were closed, it would not be long before they would be opened with greater constituencies than ever. However, at present, the Church has to make itself cheap in all sorts of ways, to induce people to attend its services, and the cheaper it makes itself the less people attend."

Look at the methods used by some churches to draw its members to Sunday attendance. Observe the church page in the Sunday issue of your newspaper and note the various "drawing cards" offered. Dr.
Peabody reports that a preacher at Harvard University said that he would stand on his head in the college pulpit if it would induce students to come to the chapel. Is this why we love to go to the house of the Lord?

We like the little girl's description of home: "Home is where Mother is." The same applies to the House of the Lord. It is the place where our Lord is and where He comes to us and tells us of the one thing needful: the message of reconciliation established between God and us through the sin-atoning sacrifice of God's Son. That is why we love to go to the House of the Lord, because my Lord will speak to me words of life. He will comfort me in my trials. He will assure unto me peace with the Father.

Why wait until Christmas to buy that gift for that special someone?
At STOTT'S JEWELLERY, in Olds,
all Christmas gifts are now on display. Have your selection laid away

No Need For Continuous Advertising

Preachers ...

Should preach only one sermon or so a year. People are against sin anyway, so why harp on it.

Traffic Lights ...

Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity.
Everybody knows it's a dangerous stop and that is sufficient.

Teachers ...

Do not need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

Highway Police ...

Stop driving up and down the highways. No need to caution drivers by patrolling highways. Drivers know the law and should obey.

Out of Towners ...

That advertisements in the local paper and mail order firms that send out catalogues are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold in the stores in town and they'll all shop at home.

But if you are one of the foolish kind — like the Notre Dame every day to let people know it is still there — and believe in continuous, profitable advertising then you will want to advertise in Wheat Dumping Really Does Hurt !!

There are many who disagree with those who argue that United States wheat surplus disposal methods will not permanently hurt Canada.

The situation in Canada is entirely different from that in the United States. We have not increased acreages excessively as American farmers have. We have had no fantastically high support prices. With wheat production, mainly for export, has been a major industry and one which a big overseas market was absolutely essential. With the wheat industry has to stand on its own feet. We could not afford to subsidize it extravagantly even if we wanted to.

Under these circumstances the dumping of hundreds of millions of bushels of wheat on world markets at bargain prices is bound to hurt us and it has. Every pound of American wheat sold at cut prices or given away, replaces a pound of wheat that Canada or some other producer for export would have expected to sell.

PROVINCIAL LIBERAL PARTY TO HOLD BIG CONFAB IN CALGARY

Liberals from all parts of Alberta will gather in convention in Calgary on November 13th and 14th to consider, discuss and make recommendations concerning Liberal party policy in both the federal and provincial fields.

Highlight of the proceedings will be the banquet address of the Hon. Walter Harris, minister of finance, Ottawa, on the evening of the 13th. J. Harper Prowse, Liberal leader in Alberta since 1947, who saw his group in the legislature increased from four to 15 in the 1955 election, will speak at 2 o'clock on Tuesday, Nov. 13. Also scheduled to address the delegates is the Hon. George Prudham, Alberta's cabinet minister and member of Parliament for Edmonton West, John Decore, M.P. for Vegreville, will discuss problems pertaining to the marketing of wheat.

President of the Alberta Liberal Association, Wilf Edgar of Inglehart, anticipates an attendance of around 300 delegates.

N.H.A. LOANS DECLINE BY BIG MARGIN IN 1956

OTTAWA — Lending activity under the National Housing Act declined by more than $125,000,000 in the first nine months of 1956, compared with the corresponding period last year, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation said last week.

The decrease in terms of dwelling units amounted to 28 per cent.

John had been invited to the funeral of his neighbor's third wife, and as he had attended the funeral of the first two, his wife was surprised when his informed her that he was not going.

"But why are you not going to this one?" she asked.

"Well, Mary, it's like this. I feel a bit awkward to be always accepting Bill's invitations, when I never have anything of the sort to ask him back to."

TOUGH STUFF

A dirt farmer visiting the city for the first time was fascinated by the black-top streets. Digging his heel into the pavement, he remarked to his son: "Can't really blame these folks for building a town here. The soil is too damned hard to plow any."

THIS MAKES SENSE?

A local lady got off the train the other day, green in the face. Her husband, who met her, asked what was wrong. "Train sickness," she replied. "I always get deathly sick when I ride backwards on a train." "Well, why didn't you ask the person sitting opposite you to change seats with you?" asked the boss. "Oh, I thought of that," replied the wife, "but there wasn't anyone sitting opposite me."

NOT SO FAR OFF

Applying for his citizenship papers, Gino was doing all right until he came to the question about the Canadian flag.

"What is it?" asked the Judge. "That you always see flying over the courthouse?"

"Peelins," confidently replied Gino.

EDITOR SUGGESTS WE LOOK BOTH WAYS

R. A. McEachern, editor of The Financial Post, has just returned from Russia. He writes:

For years I have, of course, been reading much about Russia. But I was nevertheless ill prepared for a visit. I was too often surprised by what I saw. The propagandists of both the right and of the left — and both sides are violent — have usually conveyed a highly inaccurate picture. Russia is not a workers' paradise nor a communist Utopia. Neither is it a land made up solely of ridiculous bores and ignorant stumble-bums.

To underestimate the sweep and magnitude of the Soviet development is a dangerous delusion. It will greatly help the cause of human survival on this crowded planet if more people from the West see Russia with their own eyes and if more Russians see our civilization.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Man's real selfhood as the spiritual image and likeness of God, not subject to sin and sickness, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fall: Man" will include the following (Genesis 1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

The unchanging perfection of God's man will be brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (476:28-32):

"When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said: 'The kingdom of God is within you'; that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal."

Ramblin' and Roamin'

This Week... From This Corner...

They haven't changed the date of that Lions Club Community Auction Sale; it's still going to be held on Saturday, November 10th, in the Didsbury Arena. Just leave your listing with the fellows that have been delegated to take them... you'll make money and so will the Lions Club — for a much-needed community project. If you've got it, they'll sell it. Don't get caught short, get your listings in for the sale. Like the fella' said, when you gotta' go, you gotta' go!

This Week... From This Corner...

In case you missed it last week... you can hook up with the local curling fraternity at any time. The club has to pay for the new matched rocks and you can be sure of fun and companionship while you help them carry the effort across. Join the Didsbury Curling Club now, they need your help and enthusiasm. You don't have to be experienced to play the game; ask anyone who played with or against me last winter!

This Week... From This Corner...

We always like to say "hello" to a young business venture in town. This week we say "hello" to something that was young, but has grown up. We don't make it a practice to mention names in this column but if you were to look elsewhere in this issue you'll find out what our ramblin' is all about.

This Week... From This Corner...

Remember, the Calgary Beavers of the Big Six League will play all their home games in Didsbury Memorial Arena this season. Plans are supposed to have been arranged so the schedule will not interfere with the local entry in the Chinook League. We hope so, but no signs have been flagged our way from officials of the local group. Do we hear someone whistlin'.

This Week... From This Corner...

We've had our share of mechanical and other troubles during the past week... but we're still on the move. They say if you keep lookin', and keep walkin', you'll get around that corner. The only thing we could suggest to improve that line of thinking is to get away from the square corners. This week we've run into one at every turn. That's life. That's what we're here for. But, please, not so many next time around. It must be someone else's turn.

Farm Accidents Still Take Heavy Toll

Letter To The Editor

One of Alberta's major problems in the realm of safety concerns the numbers of fatalities resulting from farm accidents. It was shown at the recent meeting in Red Deer of the provincial directors of the Alberta Safety Council.

A summary compiled by W. J. Perkins, farm safety director, shows that in the nine months ended Sept. 30, there were 87 accidental deaths of farm residents in Alberta. In the comparable period of last year, the total was 86, while the over-all total for last year, up to December 31, was 89. Thus, the total for nine months of this year is only two less than the number for the whole of last year.

This year, fires accounted for 17 deaths, compared with 16 in the same period of last year. There were nine deaths from fire-arms, as against six a year ago.

On the other hand, tractor mishaps, which took 21 lives in the first nine months of last year, had a death total of 11 this year. This drop is believed to be due in some measure to the tractor tipping demonstrations sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council.

Carbon monoxide was another of the main killers of this year, taking eight lives, as against two a year ago. Accidents to farm machines, other than tractors, caused six deaths, of which three were children under nine years of age. Last year there were two fatalities in this category. Deaths from animals, such as being gored by a bull, numbered five up to Sept. 30, one more than the same time last year. Lightning caused three deaths, one more than last year.

The Red Deer meeting received a recommendation from the farm safety committee that the agricultural engineering department at the University of Alberta start investigational work into possible remedies that might prevent tractor accidents and make trials on safety equipment that might protect the operator against fatal injuries. This proposal will be discussed at the provincial board's next meeting.

COULD BE! COULD BE!

Dear Mr. Editor:
Would appreciate the privilege of inserting a brief note concerning the Didsbury Lodge, Home for Senior Citizens.

We wish to thank and acknowledge in this way any and all gifts to the Home made by organizations and individuals, such as canned fruits, jams, vegetables, eggs and meats. Among these are: Pallen Timber Busy Bees, Sella Fair, Moravian Harvest Home, Knox United Church, Didsbury W.I., E.U.B. Ladies' Aid, Poplar Creek Ladies' Group, Westcott W.I., and many donors who have left different articles without a clue as to who gave them. We thank you most heartily, and if by chance we have missed your name, please pardon us; it was not intentional, you may be sure.

You will appreciate the fact that such "good will" on the part of the general public encourages the Board in their operation of the Home. Again we appreciate what you have done and we hope that we may at all times merit your support.

We might mention the Lodge is full to capacity at the present time. Sincerely, for the Board,

W. Reist, Sec.-Treas.

BOTTLENECK IN CANADA'S GROWTH

Perhaps the worst bottleneck in Canada's growth was appropriately described by Mr. N. R. Crump, president of the C.P.R., in a speech in Calgary Friday night. It is the shortage of university education.

The shortage applies three ways. Many millions more will be needed for new buildings and equipment. Salaries will have to be improved to assure adequate staff. And thirdly, more young people will have to be persuaded that they should go to university instead of succumbing to the lure of quick money immediately after high school.

Canada is well up with other countries in the quality of her universities and graduates but she is far behind in quantity. Without sacrificing quality, the university population should be at least quadrupled if Canada is to make the most of her opportunities.

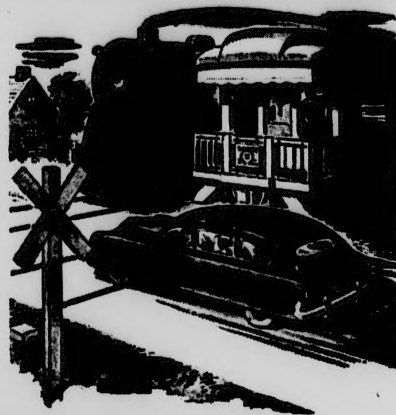

THE ANNUAL CONVENTION of the

NOVEMBER 13th and 14th, 1946

Please see that your constituency is fully represented. For further information write to the Alberta Liberal Association, 10028, 102 St., Edmonton, Alberta.

"ONE AT A TIME"

A certain hunting club had a parrot. The parrot knew only one sentence of ten words. When the men would pass from one room to another by his cage, he would say:
 "One at a time gentlemen, one at a time." The parrot broke its cage and strayed into the nearby forest.
 In his new-found freedom he bumped into a nest of wasps. When they found him he was saying to those creatures, "One at a time gentlemen,
 one at a time."

Dr. Glen Bartlett has written a parable entitled, "The Philosophical Clock." This clock, all new and shining, was placed for the first time on a living room shelf. It's task was to say tick, once every second. That would be sixty times every minute, or 3600 times ever hour. If you remember there are 24 hours in a day; seven days in a week and 52 weeks in a year; well, you figure it out. This clock tried to and the coils from the fear. It just could not face such a large number of tick tocks all at one counting.

Then according to this parable this clock, like the young man in another parable, did some re-thinking, and talked to itself saying "why should I be bothered about this matter. I only have to tick-tock one at a time."

In every eating place, whether it be a home, cafe, club or hotel, there are dishes to be washed. It is said if a woman who washes dishes eight hours a day in a rather dingy kitchen, that she sings all day. Do you think she could do that if she tried to count, before going to work, how many dishes she would have to wash during her time on duty? The number would look too large, the thought of it would steal her song away.

There is no job where things do not pile up. Too many people however, count, or try to count the number of things to be done in the next few weeks. They keep continually thinking about how terribly busy they are going to be at Christmas time. They wonder how it is that so much responsibility and such a large portion of the world's work has fallen on them. They soon become unhappy. They worry about it all and in a short time, find they are off the job. Someone else is doing the work while they convalesce.
 Dishes are washed one at a time.
 Other tasks, regardless of how numerous or how varied they may be,
 are always mastered, if mastered at all, one at a time.

Who is there who has not known some victim of paralysis? What recovery there, is always slow. A little girl who had been in bed six years said to a new neighbor who dropped in to see her: "I can only do two things. I can breathe a little, and I can move the muscles in my stomach a little." He showed her how to breathe deep breaths. He called from time to time to encourage her. He told her to keep on moving the muscles that were still alive. He pointed out to her that her chances for recovery hung on the way she faithfully struggled with these two exercises. With this beginning she climbed slowly, but surely, the ladder to health and strength. She later learned to walk again, one step at a time.

We are always pained at the actions of animals in captivity. People are never happy in exile. The Psalms tell some very sad stories

From the dairy farm to your

BANGS VACCINATION: The fall drive is now underway to vaccinate all heifer calves between 4 to 12 months of age. Local township captains, in a number of instances, have already organized their area and had the veterinarian out to complete the job. Many herds are still at large but with the turn to colder weather and snow, cattlemen will be rounding up the herd and making plans to wean the calves.

As far as the health and comfort of the calves is concerned it is better policy to vaccinate before they are taken away from their mothers for good. Let us not relax our vigilance in neglecting to vaccinate all the heifer calves. Perhaps you have not had any Bangs disease in your herd.
 That is just the way you should try to keep it.

This can be done by making sure all heifers are vaccinated between 4 to 12 months. DON'T bring in any herd replacements unless you are SURE that they are clean. Should you buy from an Auction Market and the cows are under test, make sure to keep them isolated until you have confirmation of the blood test being negative.

During the month of September there were 12 cows that went through the Olds Auction Mart that re-acted positively to the Bangs test and had to be branded with a "B" on the right jaw. These cattle are identified for life as carriers of the disease and should not be allowed to mingle with a clean herd.

So you see, there is still a very real danger of inadvertently bringing in an animal that can contaminate your present herd unless the necessary precautions are carefully carried out.

Notes From D.A.

By Howard J. Fisher

Many farmers are very interested in the new barley variety Parkland. This is a six-rowed smooth awned barley which is classed as a maturing variety. Parkland barley was developed by the Experimental Farm, Brandon. It is the result of an Olli x Montclair x (Newall x Parkland x CAC 21) crossing and selection. This barley is classed as mid-season to late in maturity with a medium long straw that has moderately strong strength.

Results as to yield, etc., are not complete, as it is new and has been grown on limited acreage by seed growers. However some observations can be made from this summer's crops. It is not early maturing as compared to Olli and Gateway and therefore is not as well suited to areas where the frost-free season is short. The straw is long and although regarded as moderately strong, some heavy stands went down. This barley is susceptible to loose smut much the same as other barleys, e.g. Newall and Montclair, but it is resistant to stem rust.

Parkland barley is a good yielder and will malt; it should find a place in the varieties which can be successfully grown here.

Orders for this variety must be made on official application forms. I have a supply of these at my office. The bulk of distribution is one lot of seed not less than two bushels or not more than ten bushels to any one farmer.

Registered No. 1 is priced at $4.00 per bushel f.o.b. certified and commercial are priced at $3.25 and $2.25 respectively but the supply of these is limited. Orders must be accompanied with payment for the seed; for further details contact my office.

The two beef clubs in the Didsbury area will be re-organizing very soon. All boys and girls who wish to join the club should inquire of the respective club leaders as to when the meetings will be held. East Didsbury Club is headed by A. E. Brander and Jim Hughes is leader of the West Didsbury Club.

ALWAYS THE GENTLEMAN

The absent minded man entered the barber shop and sat down next to a pretty red-head who was having her hair cut.

"Haircut, please," he ordered.

"Certainly," said the barber, "but if you really want a haircut, would you mind taking off your hat?"

The man hurriedly removed his hat. "I'm terribly sorry, he apologized. "I didn't realize there was a lady present."

Learned U.S. Professor Advocates New Plan For
The Weak and The StrongTOO MUCH FOR THE WEAK
TOO LITTLE FOR THE STRONG

When Dr. McDaniels of Stanford University spoke in Camrose last week one of the points he touched upon was our tendency to try too hard to help the plight of the weak in the areas of learning, while permitting the above average pupils to fend for themselves.

He mentioned that the great State of California had suddenly come to this realization after it had provided a number of special schools for the retarded children and at the same time had done nothing for the pupil who found himself with learning ability above normal for his age.

It is just as essential that these pupils should receive special training that fits in with their peculiar abilities. Just recently something along these lines has been done. A class of 20 is the limit for one teacher, since more individual instruction is required.

The results in the short time such schools have been operating have been phenomenal. There has been no acceptable scientific explanation for the sudden appearance of genius in certain families. It can be traced to neither heredity nor environment.

Speaking of the problems of the ordinary teacher, Dr. McDaniels said that most teachers in the early grades were confronted by children with the capacity for learning differentiating as much as 300 per cent, drawing a line above the I.Q. of a moron and below the I.Q. of a genius.

TURKEY PRICES
SHOW DECLINE

The disastrous talk of a drop in turkey prices to the growers of these birds was drawn to the attention of the Farmers' Union of Alberta by a three-man delegation from Mundare last week. The three represented 300 turkey farmers in that area.

They pointed out that at present prices growers were producing at a loss. Fall sales of turkey and other poultry products means much to farm people, especially in these difficult times when grain sales are slow. The reasons given for the decline in prices are the estimated large numbers of turkeys in farmers' hands as compared with last year and expected large imports of turkeys from the United States, where they are in surplus supply.

RADIO STILL HOLDS ITS OWN

Quite a lot of people three or four years ago were quick to predict that the arrival on the social scene of the new, dazzling phenomenon, television, meant sunset-and-soft-music for radio. What, we wonder, do they make of the recent statistical release of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics?

Radio, we learn, far from declining into obscurity, is on the up-and-up. This year's sales are running well ahead of last year's which, incidentally, were higher than those of the previous year. Clearly, whatever else TV is doing it is not putting radio out of business.

Come to think of it, we suppose there never really was any imminent danger of the domestic radio set becoming extinct. It may seem to be overshadowed by its more glorious rival but, quite apart from its intrinsic merits as a medium of entertainment, it has one distinct and decided advantage in the contest for public favor: it doesn't require one's complete and undivided attention as does that other magic box.

The contemporary version of the "cat's-whisker" and crystal set of 30 years ago demands at most only our ears and, frequently, must be content with only half of one. The various activities in which people can engage while lending a minimum of half-an-ear to radio are legion and range from morning ablutions to gardening to car washing.

Radio, we suspect, is going to be with us for a long time yet.

lands as compared with last year and expected large imports of turkeys from the United States, where they are in surplus supply.

A. W. Platt, president of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, stated that he had wired Mr. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, requesting that existing price support legislation be used immediately to put a floor under turkey prices. He pointed out that keeping turkey products at a reasonable price was in the interests of both the producer and the consumer. The suggested support price was 37 cents for large birds and 43c for the smaller ones.

CREMONA NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

People were excited around here on October 26, in the afternoon, when the report reached town that Wigmore's house was on fire. Several carloads of men rushed out to Wigmore's to discover that it was the pump house floor that was on fire. The flames were soon under control.

The snow on Thursday night caused a car to land in the ditch on the Cremona hill on the south side, on Friday morning of last week. Allen Eby was going up the hill and the driver coming down swerved to avoid him and hit the ditch. The car was winched out by Don McLennan.

The Cremona 4H Club met at the home of Vair Reid's last Friday, Oct. 26, for the purpose of estimating the potential membership for the coming year. They are to meet again this week.

Don Odell starts his term teaching at Calgary Tech on October 29.

The annual local Credit Union dance was held in the community hall on October 26. Approximately $75 was realized. Jack Robertson of Dog Pond won the door prize.

Lila Jean Young, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Young, is in Didsbury hospital. It is expected she will remain there for another week.

E. Fischer was a weekend visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Knox.

Charles Holbrook is remodelling his general store. It is cold weather to be running the cement but the work is going ahead.

The N & J Store have the new addition to their place of business almost completed.

The Sewing Circle held their usual bi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Rattray October 24. The members are starting work on an afghan.

Marion Lane, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lane, was saved from great disappointment last Saturday when, despite the cold, snowy weather and slippery roads, Donna and Bernice McBain arrived at her home to help at her birthday cake. Never were guests more welcome.

Break-Through Is Not Enough

(Contributed)

The past twelve months have seen an important break-through in the fight against mental illness — the successful use of drugs in treating some of the mentally ill. While medical treatment has always been considered an important part of the total therapy used with the mentally ill, never has the introduction of a new medical treatment brought such a surge of hope as has been created by the use of these drugs.

Hospital reports tell of dramatic recoveries of patients who had been seriously ill and "out of touch with reality" for many years. They tell of the recovery of patients with whom all other treatment methods had failed. But almost without exception, these reports issue a note of caution. They point out that these drugs are effective only with some mental illnesses; that they work with some patients and not with others; that they often do only part of the job; the rest being accomplished by the treatment method known as psychotherapy.

Thus, while there is every reason to be hopeful about the use of these new drugs in treating the mentally ill, there is also reason to realize that these drugs are not a "cure-all" for the mentally ill nor an "end-all" to mental illness.

There is need for a tremendous amount of additional research to improve these and other treatment methods and to discover new ones.

WALTHER LEAGUERS ATTEND CLARESHOLM RALLY

Thanksgiving Monday, seven members of the Didsbury Walther League attended the south zone rally at Clareholm. Leaguers registered from all parts of Southern Alberta.

The day began with a church service. Rev. L. Guebert of Clareholm, delivering the sermon.

Before the noon meal each society modeled their own hats and sang self-composed songs. The Didsbury group stressed nail suppression with their hats and in their song.

For Bible study the Mt. Calvary Calgary Leaguers led a topic based on the theme of the rally, "Be Ye Thankful."

After the evening meal elections took place, followed by a vespers service, with Rev. Brill delivering the message.

During the October 2 meeting it was definitely decided to have the Alberta-B.C. district convention in Didsbury early in 1957.

For Christmas gifts that express your love and devotion — it's STOTT'S JEWELRY in Olds. Choose now — pay later.

There is a need for the use of all appropriate treatment methods with all mental patients and not just with the few who are getting treatment today. There is a need for the training of thousands of additional psychiatric and other professional personnel to treat and carry on research. There is need for thousands of additional psychiatric clinics to treat the people with the less severe mental disorders, and to keep many of them from having to become mental hospital patients.

This need can only be met through public interest and action. During the Mental Health Campaign, which ended October 31, citizens throughout the country had a good chance to learn more about mental illness and what they can do to fight it.

Everyone is urged to demonstrate their interest in helping the mentally ill by supporting any fund-raising campaign in this direction.
